

I am deeply disappointed to learn of Sinclair Broadcasting's action to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary so close to the election. That one company has that power demonstrates the problem with media consolidation.

Since Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge they should promote the public interest and provide balanced programming. It seems only fair that if they are allowed to broadcast a biased program at this time, that they be required to also broadcast a pro-Kerry program, such as "Going Upriver."
